To Whom it May Concern,

This letter serves as an introduction to the financial and governing aspects of Blue Letter Bible. We hope your general questions regarding our financial policies and procedures will be answered. Should you have additional questions or concerns regarding the ministry, please feel free to contact our Director of Donor Relations and Development, Jacob A. Evatt, at 864-652-3065, or Jacob.Evatt@BlueLetterBible.org.

Blue Letter Bible is a nonprofit corporation, recognized by the state of California as a religious, charitable organization; further recognized by the Internal Revenue Service as a section 501(c)(3) public charity. Our EIN is 47-2951572. All donations to the ministry are tax deductible to the fullest extent of the law. The ministry was organized as an independent non-profit organization on November 1, 2016.

As a recognized 501(c)(3) charitable organization, Blue Letter Bible is bound by the rules and regulatory requirements as set forth by the law. Primary oversight of our organization has been entrusted to our Board of Directors, which has a majority of independent, non-related persons. The Board of Directors is charged with making all decisions regarding major purchases and expenditures, salaries of officers, and ministerial direction. The board helps maintain a necessary measure of accountability. Day-to-day operational decisions are handled by Chief Executive Officer, Andy Guastaferro.

Our desire is to be as financially transparent as possible. To that end, our federal 990 tax filings are available for public inspection upon request. We maintain an active membership with the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability (ECFA), and our annual financial statement audits are done by an outside accounting firm.

The financial support we receive is used to provide powerful tools for an in-depth study of God's Word through our free online resource library, all of which are grounded in the historical, conservative Christian faith. The leaders of the ministry continually seek the Lord when considering new ways to fulfill the mission entrusted to us. As the Lord directs and provides, we follow.

As indicated above, if you have any other questions about the ministry and its financial policies and procedures, please feel free to contact our Director of Donor Relations and Development, Jacob A. Evatt, at 864-652-3065, or Jacob.Evatt@BlueLetterBible.org.
